HEX SPOUT APPEALS TO SOPHISTICATED LADIES & GENTLEMEN

Family of Spouts—A1808, A1884, 1804, 1803—Embolden the ROHL Country Bath Collection

ROHL's family of hexagonal spout bath faucetry harmoniously blends two distinct design approaches to render an elegantly classic creation.

Part of ROHL's Country Bath Collection, the Hex family combines masculine and feminine artistic influences. These handsome faucets sport crisp angles and strong, clean lines. But between the angular hexagon shape, one finds softly tempered curves and gently arched planes. This intriguing design favorite, ROHL's versatile Hex family of faucets complements a range of interior environments from country to contemporary.

A selection of five warm, authentic finishes enhance their meticulously crafted, Italian-made solid brass bodies: ROHL's polished chrome, polished nickel, satin nickel, Inca brass and Tuscan brass. Scaled for residential or hospitality lavatory applications, the fixed spout of the A1808 lavatory widespread stands 4-1/2 inches tall and reaches out six inches.

Personal accent choices of porcelain, Swarovski crystal and metal levers or metal cross handles control the 1/4-turn ceramic disc valves. An integrated pop-up is included as well. Fueling the system are 1/2-inch NPT connectors.
